What is Our Voices Matter?

Our Voices Matter Podcast with Linda Lorelle: Intimate conversations to illuminate our common humanity.

This podcast is not about politics, per se. It is about finding a way to reclaim civility. It is Linda Lorelle's fervent hope that by hearing the personal and professional stories of those you might consider "the other", you will somehow see glimpses of yourself. You will be reminded that there is so much more that unites us than divides us. You will allow empathy to envelop you. You will find a way to embrace our common humanity.

Why This Podcast and Why Now?

Because it's time for us all to stop, take a breath, and listen. Some of the guests you will know; they're famous for one thing or another. Others you will not. All of them will have interesting perspectives to share about their lives, their work, their goals, their concerns and their hopes for themselves and our nation- all in the context of the contentious times in which we live.

About the Creator

Linda Lorelle is a journalist who relishes giving voice to people's stories. She is a business owner, founder of an education non-profit, keynote speaker, wife, mother, daughter, dancer, sister and lover of life- and her country. Like so many of us, she is distressed to see the deteriorating level of discourse in our democracy. This podcast is her humble attempt to do something about it, one story at a time.

Launch & Upcoming Seasons

Our Voices Matter Podcast launched with its first episode in December of 2018. Since then, two seasons have been completed and 75 episodes released. The third season of the podcast begins Oct. 2020 with a planned schedule of three new episodes per month.
